A SOUTHERN JOAN OF ARC.

"Douschka" Pickens, Who Suppressed a Negro Insurrection by Her Bravery.

"Douschka" Pickens won for herself the title of South Carolina's Joan of Arc, upon the occasion of Edgefield County being threatened with a negro uprising which seemed likely to extend over the entire State," says a writer in the September Ladies Home Journal. "This was in 1876, when political feeling ran high. The town of Edgefield was given over to rioting of all kinds, which no one seemed able to control and the homes and even the lives of the inhabitants were threatened. At this juncture one thousand five hundred 'red shirts', of whom the negroes stood in great awe, gathered from no one knew where, and, led by 'Douschka' herself dressed in red, rode into the village bringing terror with them. The result was a complete intimidation of the negro element, without which the opposing political party was practically helpless. The example set by this plucky child of eighteen was followed in other parts of the State with equal success."

COLLAR-BONE BROKEN.

Child of Mr. N. D. Green Painfully Hurt.

Gus Moore Green, an 18-months-old son of Mr. N. D. Green, fell off a plank with which he was playing Sunday evening, and broke his collar-bone. The plank was placed with one end against a fence and slipped off. Dr. Blakey attended to the injury and no serious results are expected.

Heart on The Right Side.

Charlie Hobbs, who left here last week and joined the army, was examined as to his health, etc., in Evansville. Dr. Ower in making the examination found that Charlie's heart is situated on the right side, instead of the left side of the body. While his heart is on the right side, still it is strange to say that it is on the wrong side. It is occasionally the case that the heart is found located in the right, instead of the left side of the body.—Glenn's Graphic.

Coal Produced in the South.

Two decades ago the south produced annually but 6,000,000 tons of bituminous coal. That product has now passed the 40,000,000 mark, and of the 47,000 square miles of coal fields in the south only about 1,000 are under development.

MOTHER WINS.

Habeas Corpus Case Decided 'The Parson' Chosen by Tenth District Republican Congressional Convention.

In the habeas corpus case, Judge Campbell rendered a decision Saturday giving the nine-year-old child, Edgar Nave Wells, to his mother, Mrs. Mary Nave.

In 1892 Mrs. Nave was deserted by her husband in Graves county. She had four small children and they were brought to the home of her brother, W. G. Butler, near Bainbridge. Mr. Butler sought homes for the children and Mrs. J. F. Wells, of this city, agreed to take the youngest, aged two years. The child was given to her and was adopted by her and in 1899 a formal order was made by the county court apprenticing the child to her. Mrs. Wells had lost a child about the same age as the little adopted son and she learned to love little Edgar with all a mother's love and tenderness. The child is devotedly attached to her and when Mrs. Nave appeared after seven years and claimed her child, Mrs. Wells resisted and the matter was taken into court on habeas corpus proceedings.

When Judge Campbell decided Saturday that the boy, now a bright little fellow of nine years of age, should be given to Mrs. Nave, the scene was intensely dramatic and pathetic. When the effect of the decision was explained to the child, he clasped Mrs. Wells around the neck and declared that he would not be taken from her and would not go with his real mother. Many people in the court-room wept in sympathy with Mrs. Wells.

The enforcement of the judgment was held up for a few days.

THE KENTUCKY WESTERN.

President Wheatcroft Says It Has Not Been Sold to I. C.

Dixon, Ky., August 26.—President Wheatcroft, of the Kentucky Western, has returned to Clay from Chicago. He positively denies that the Illinois Central has purchased the new road. He did not say as much, but it may be accepted as almost a certainty that the Illinois Central will operate the road for the owners. Should the Illinois Central people buy the Kentucky Western, it is said, they will build it to Owensboro to connect with their road at that place, crossing Green river about two miles east of Sebree.

President Wheatcroft completed arrangements in Chicago for enough rails to complete the road to Dixon. Work will begin Wednesday at Lisman.

BETHEL BURNED.

Stood on The Birthplace of Jefferson Davis.

Struck by Lightning on Last Tuesday and Completely Destroyed.

Thursday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock the Bethel Baptist church at Fairview, Ky., was struck by lightning and destroyed by fire. The citizens fought hard, but the building could not be saved.

The Review with commendable enterprise issued an extra, from which the following is taken:

"The church was a handsome brick structure and was built on the spot where Jefferson Davis was born, and was bought by his old comrades in arms, headed by M. H. Clark, of Clarksville, Tenn., and presented to Mr. Davis by them and he to Bethel Baptists, when the church was completed in 1886. The church when completed cost $10,000. There was $5,000 insurance on it, while this nucleus to a build, it will not begin to cover the loss. It is thought that the membership will build again at an early date.

When the church was dedicated in 1886 Mr. Davis was present and presented the lot to the trustees. Rev. C. H. Strickland, of Nashville, Tenn., preached the dedicatory sermon in the presence of one of the largest crowds ever assembled in the town.

This is the third church burned here in three years. The Methodist church was burned by lightning striking it on the morning of November 16, 1897, which was a total loss. The colored Baptists lost their church last fall by a defective flue, and the Baptists the 23rd day of August, 1900.

The citizens of the town did all in their power to save the church and it seemed at times that they would succeed, but by the time the fire was put out in one place it would break out in another, till finally they had to give up and stand and see the beautiful structure burn.

However the organ and most of the memorial windows were saved. The members of the other churches sympathize with their Baptist brethren in their loss. The Methodist and Cumberland Presbyterians will render them the use of their churches till they can build a new house of worship. It was thought at one time that the parsonage would burn from the heat of the church, but as the wind was favorable it was saved without much trouble."

Corbett's Latest Challenge.

James J. Corbett has offered to fight Fitzsimmons no matter whether he wins or loses in his coming match with McCoy, which will be fought next Thursday night. A match may be arranged for August 31, the day before the anti-fight law goes into operation in New York.
